Last night I wanted to stay up late to see who won the election. when I went to sleep Obama had 77 electoral votes and McCain had 34 electoral votes.

And in the morning Obama still had more votes than McCain I wanted Obama to win because I don't think that Palin would be a good Vice President . But Obama did win! And it will stay like that for the next 4 years.

McCain might be President in the next few years. Here is What my Grandpa had to say about the 2008 Presidential Election.
