Once when I was in 1st grade it was getting close to my birthday and my Mommy, and Daddy asked me if I wanted to have a birthday party that lasts for only 3 hours or to go to a place in Pennsylvania called Great Wolf Lodge for 2 days and 1 night. So of course I picked Great Wolf Lodge. But it was so worth it. There was a store where you can buy a wand so you can open treasure chests. There was a huge indoor water park with a baby pool outside loaded with toys. A bunk bed in the hotel rooms. There was an arcade. There's a store where there's knickknacks. There's even a Starbucks. There's a spa for kids and grown-ups. There's a restaurant there. There's a slide in the water park that starts from inside then goes outside then back inside. But you have to take off school if you go or else all the lines to the rides will be huge and there will be no parking spaces. We'll at least that's what I did. And Saturday February 7th 2009 I'm going to Great Wolf Lodge for my second time to celebrate my friend Dellanie's birthday and just to have fun.
